ISTA Lecture Young Lounge

Stuart J. Russell

University of California Berkeley

Host: ISTA Science Education Team

Prior to the ISTA Lecture by Stuart J. Russell, the ISTA Lecture Young Lounge gives high school students and their teacher the opportunity to meet our speaker in a colloquial atmosphere. Participants will receive an entry level introduction to the topic of the lecture and have the possibility to ask questions and get to know the speaker in a less formal setting. Preparatory material is provided to teachers in advance. Participants are expected to stay for the subsequent ISTA Lecture (no separate registration necessary). The Young Lounge, as the lecture, are held in English. Registration is open to groups of 2-4 high school students accompanied by a teacher or other mentor with the possibility to facilitate preparation and coordinate the organization of the group. When inviting students to participate, we highly encourage teachers to consider diversity criteria. Who would be positively surprised to receive such an invitation? Who is in need of inspiration and encouragement for science and would benefit from it? For registration via email, please click here! Spots for the Young Lounge are limited and are given out on a first-come-first-serve basis. If you are an individual high-school student and would like to come, we encourage you to talk to your teacher to organize a group!
