Harald Schnidar,
CEO of SCARLETRED

Host: Edmundo R. Sánchez Guajardo

SCARLETRED uses AI for remote skin monitoring, image analysis, and digital health services for biopharma, cosmetics, and medical industries. Their CE medical device certified platform Scarletred®Vision enables objective and quantitative assessment of visual skin parameters, such as erythema, pigmentation, lesion size, and tissue patterns. Follow this talk and find out more about the science, hear our speakers story and find out how he ended up founding SCARLETRED. Harald Schnidar: I am the CEO, Founder and President of SCARLETRED. I am also a scientist. My mission: To leverage the power of AI and data to improve skin health outcomes. I started my career at the University of Graz and Salzburg. After my postdoc, I moved on to industry at Apeiron Biologics AG. In 2013 I became an entrepreneur founding my business Scarletred® as my first project. Today our Scarletred®Vision is on it's way to become a gold standard in digital imaging and analysis in dermatology
